

ABSTRACT

Information such as usage or acquisition terms of a portable electrical power source, such as a battery or a battery-powered device, is used to determine a fee. The information may be communicated to an external device, e.g., over the Internet, or to a vending apparatus which recharges the battery or dispenses a fresh battery.

20067670.doc